

Chad King, PhD
Biography

Chad is the Sustainability Coordinator at the University of Denver. In this inaugural role, Chad launched the Center for Sustainability in 2012, where he works across campus units to connect institutional and regional practices to the curriculum. Prior to this, Chad was faculty in Environmental Science at Ohio Dominican University. He earned a master's and PhD in Sustainable Agriculture from the University of Arizona. Chad currently serves on the board of Transportation Solutions, and is a member of the Mayor's Bicycle Advisory Committee.